

Well, for starters, our high quality Digital-ready VHF/UHF Antennas will ensure you can enjoy stress-free TV viewing for many years in the future, as we stock a huge range of Antennas to suit all signal strengths and locations.

We can install a Digital quality cable from your Antenna to one or more TV outlets whether new or existing, with a new high quality Digital Wall Plate.

Are you into a Home Theatre?

Well, we can accommodate you by installing a professional Home Theatre and Surround Sound setup that will give you many hours of not having to worry about reading through the manuals so that you can achieve a quality experience you always wanted.

How about your computer networking? Are you confident you have a virus and spyware-free system? Would you like to have your computer and network perform faster?

Yes, we can configure a network for you to share files and printers; install a backup for all your important files; recover deleted or lost data; even set up new equipment for you like smart phones and tablets. Our expert technicians are ready and willing to help you in all your computer networking needs.

Clearly, your computer networking requirements go hand-in-hand with a fast Ethernet system. This system is the most popular because it strikes a good balance between speed, cost and ease of installation. With these benefits, combined with a wide acceptance in the computer marketplace, and the capability of supporting almost all current network protocols, makes Ethernet a perfect networking expertise for most computer users today.

If you are in a commercial complex, we have the perfect MATV system just for you. Master Antenna Television (MATV) is the antenna system designed to allocate a signal, whether analogue or digital, from a central location to multiple receivers (TV sets).

MATV is a professional solution for premises with multiple reception locations. These can include hotels, motels, apartment complexes, hospitals, etc. This MATV system consists of a cable network with specially designed components that can execute all the distinct techniques.

Most people place their TV on a stand in the room, and that's that! But what fun is that? Why not have the Antenna Specialist professional technicians mount your plasma directly on your wall without any unsightly cables hanging down from the TV?

But guess what? We also install pre-cabling of all new homes, which is sometimes called 'smart wiring.' This comprehensive wiring installation is connected during construction, consisting of speakers, phones, faxes, TV, projectors and security. Obviously, this system can add thousands of dollars in resale value also.

Now, talking about security, we can install an alarm system that is at the forefront of the security industry. Protect your assets and premises with an alarm security system designed to work just for you. We have extensive experience and a proven track record in alarm system installations. As such, we specialise in home or business monitoring systems which will help safeguard your property.

Do you realise now, whatever your networking problems, Antenna Specialist have the solution? When you call Antenna Specialist our highly trained technician will be there ready to do the job with a minimum of fuss.
